

6179 Webinar: Identifying and Declaring Conflict Minerals

The Dodd-Frank Act of 2002 stipulated that in the U.S., listed companies are now required to disclose if they use minerals (cassiterite, columbite-tantalite (coltan), tantal gold, wolframite etc.) originating in the Democratic Republic of Congo or a neighboring country.

If they do use conflict minerals, a report including the description of origin and chain of custody of such minerals must be submitted. – This also includes the obligation to disclose if products that directly or indirectly finance or benefit armed groups in the DRC or a neighboring country are used.

Goal

You understand what conflict minerals are as well as the background and aim of the U.S. Dodd-Frank Act, and you are able to determine if your company is concerned. You possess the basic skills in order to identify entries that are categorized as conflict minerals in your supplier's feedback and you can identify critical elements early enough. Moreover, you are able to transfer information, requirements and obligations along the supply chain.

Contents

- ☐ Overview on Conflict Minerals
 - Definitions, background and aims
 - Dodd-Frank-Act Sec. 1502 Conflict Minerals
 - Definition, Background and Aims
 - Conflict Minerals in the GADSL list
- ☐ Analysis and inventory
 - Determine who is concerned by 3TG and the role of your own company
 - Establish measures in order to fulfill your obligation in the supply chain (OECD Due Diligence Guidance)
- ☐ CMRT Reporting standard in a nutshell
 - Getting to know the current definitions
 - Reporting your company and contact person
 - Selecting the reporting level
 - Answering the 7 questions regarding the selected reporting level
 - Answering questions A-J on company level
 - Introducing and assessing check routines (Due Dilligence)

Who is affected?

Listed companies in the U.S. or companies that supply to those companies and therefore are required to report.

Participants

Developers, engineers, staff responsible for environmental/quality management and sales/purchase.

Webinar duration:

120 minutes

Max. no. of participants: 8

Training documentation

You receive a personal copy of the webinar presentation.

Public training

Current fees and dates can be found on our websites www.imds-professional.com and www.compliance-professional.eu

To check the technical requirements for participation in our webinar, visit our website www.imds-professional.com

More webinars

Current fees and dates can be found on our website www.imds-professional.com

Exclusive training

This webinar may also be booked exclusively. Your advantage: you set the date and the content is adapted according to your wishes and requirements.

Please request your personal offer:

Phone +49 6083 91 30 30 Fax +49 6083 91 30 930

info@imds-professional.com